

INFECTION CONTROL & BARRIER PRECAUTIONS FOR NEW YORK LICENSED HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONALS

This online independent study module has been developed in accordance with the NYDOH/ OSHA/CDC guidelines to provide the most current information on infection control practices and principles in healthcare settings to minimize the transmission of healthcare associated infections. The course work is designed by infectious disease epidemiologist whose credentials include over twenty years of experience in hospital infection control.

Upon completion of this course, you will be able to learn:

- Six core elements of Infection Control & Barrier Precautions training requirements mandated by New York State.
- Familiarize professionals with the law requiring this training and the professional misconduct charges that may be applicable for not complying with the law.
- Chain of Infection - Components of Infectious Disease Process
- Current scientifically accepted infection prevention and control principles as appropriate for the specific work environment, including standard precautions, engineering controls, work practice controls, and environmental controls and how it applies in healthcare settings.
- Minimize opportunity for transmission of pathogens to patients and healthcare workers through appropriate use of personal protective equipment (PPE).
- Application of infection control practices for cleaning, disinfection, and sterilization to ensure the safety and integrity of patient-care equipment.
- Protecting Healthcare Workers: Prevention and management of infectious or communicable diseases in healthcare workers (HCW), through immunization, bloodborne pathogens training, exposure control plan, post-exposure evaluation, and post-exposure prophylaxis.

Contact Hours : 3 Hours

NYSDOH Provider Number: TP02052

Course Approval: Approved by the New York State Department of Health

Course Format : Online Independent Study (Training + Test)

Course Completion Certificate : A Printable (Pdf) Certificate By Email / Mail (If Requested, we will mail printed certificate at no additional cost)

Biologix Solutions LLC is a New York State Department of Health Approved Provider: For Physicians, Resident Physicians, Registered Nurses (RN), Licensed Practical Nurses (LPN), Dentists, Dental Hygienists, Podiatrists, Registered Physician Assistants, Special Assistants, Optometrists, Medical Students, and Physician Assistant Students. Eligible Groups (Employees, Credentialed/ Affiliated Professionals, and Community based Providers.)